

Live Well Wellness Global Coach TRAINING

Live Well Wellness Global Coach Training

As a global provider of coaching services, Workplace Options brings a high level of practical experience to its Live Well Wellness Global Coach Training. Not only has the program been successfully used to train coaches in five continents, it is also:

- ✓ Recognized by the International Coaching Federation¹ as a Level 1 Accredited Program providing 66 hours of approved coach-specific education.
- ✓ A National Board for Health & Wellness Coaching Approved Training Program.²
- ✓ Delivered in a fully virtual format.

Training participants learn to use motivational interviewing techniques and a values-based whole person approach to coaching, which supports the participant's emotional, physical, and practical wellbeing. Coaches are trained in—and practice—the core competencies of the ICF and NBHWC in their sessions. Training methodology is based on a blending of behavior change theories including positive psychology, management and human

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

- Describe the scope of professional coaching globally
- Learn how to effectively establish a coaching agreement
- Distinguish the differences between offering services as a coach rather than a therapist, medical expert, or mentor
- Define the International Coach Federation (ICF) and the National Board for Health & Wellness Coaching (NBHWC) core competencies
- Apply the ICF and NBHWC competencies to structure the coaching conversation
- Learn how to navigate the coaching sessions to build a client's self-efficacy and guide toward lasting support for positive outcomes
- Demonstrate core coaching skills through participation in triad and buddy coaching groups (coach, client, observer)

COMMENTS

FROM PAST PARTICIPANTS

"I would recommend it. It was a great learning experience that can benefit not only your work life but also your personal life as well."

"Delivering coaching was something new to me and it's a valuable addition to my skills. I think what I've learned from the training will be beneficial for my role as a clinician as well since it helps me to be more positive and supportive with the clients."
